

Privacy Statement

Thank you for visiting the Showplace Website. The purpose of this statement is to explain to you what personal information we collect and how we may use it. We are committed to protecting your privacy and maintaining the security of any personal information received from you in accordance with The Data Protection Act (1998) which defines the legal responsibilities of data users. The Act governs the collection, storage, use and transfer of personal details, for example, name, address, email, etc.

We will only collect and store personal details appropriate to the service you require. We may occasionally send you correspondence either via post or email regarding services that we consider may be of interest to you.

Please note that we collect no personal information about you when you visit the Website, unless you choose to provide that information to us by completing the enquiry form stating your name, company, telephone and email address. We do not sell, rent or exchange your personal information with any third party for commercial reasons.

If you are simply visiting the Showplace Website to browse the pages, we will gather and store certain information about your choices, thus we automatically collect and store only the following information about your visit -

- The Internet domain (for example, "xcompany.com" or "yourdept.edu" etc) and the IP address (an IP address is a number automatically assigned to a computer whenever it connects to the Web) from which you access our Website
- The type of browser and operating system used to access our site
- The date and time of the visit
- The pages visited
- If you came in from another website, the address of that website.

We use this information to help us make our site more useful to visitors and to learn about the number of visitors to our site and the type of technology they use. We do not track or record information about individuals.
